Set: 20-22nd March 2012

Duration: 2 weeks

Hand in: Thursday 5th April 2012

REFLECTIVE FINAL PROJECT EVALUATION Brief:

Write a 500 – 750 word critical evaluation of your Final Project. This should include 5-10 images of your own work or the work of others.

Reflect on the development of your Final Major Project from your Project Proposal to realisation. You should also consider the logbook, reflective journal, sketchbooks, seminar discussions, museum and gallery visits (inc. film/TV programmes), your bibliography, feedback from crits/tutorials/questionnaires and anything else which you find useful.

You must reflect on:

- Research methods that you have utilised.
- The way you have developed ideas and concepts.
- Materials, methods and processes explored.
- Contextual references and the usefulness of the sources in your bibliography.
- The effectiveness of your time management and action plan.

In conclusion you must consider:

- Ways in which you can improve your future performance and output.
- What you have learnt in terms of practical skills and working methods, and ideas development.
- Please include your BLOG ADDRESS if you used one as part of your project

You must re-read your Project Proposal to identify how your work has developed. Think about these changes and identify why they have occurred.

Academic Support is available, please refer to Blackboard for details.

Learning Outcomes:

- Use evaluative and reflective skills in order to take responsibility for own learning, development and effective decision making.
- Critically review the effectiveness and appropriateness of planning, methods, actions and results.

Assessment Criteria: You must be able to demonstrate that you can:

- Maintain detailed, critically evaluative and reflective records of project development
- Use evaluative and reflective skills to make effective decisions
- Explain how effective and appropriate planning, methods, actions and outcomes have been in realising a proposed project.

Assessment Evidence: A word processed document of 500 - 750 words + 5-10 images + an updated bibliography, using the Harvard style of referencing. This must be double spaced with no errors of grammar or spelling.
